

Experiment 1: population size = 10, context size = 5, equal frequency average number of single-argument constructions — average number of two-argument constructions - - - average number of three-argument constructions